

THE LEOPOLD WRITING PROGRAM PRESENTS THE SEVENTH ANNUAL LEOPOLD LECTURE

AN EVENING WITH JOY HARJO:

STORYTELLING, CULTURE, AND THE ENVIRONMENT

Saturday
September 26th, 2026
6 PM

The KiMo Theatre
423 Central Ave NW,
Albuquerque, NM 87102

Join the Leopold Writing Program for “An Evening with Joy Harjo: Storytelling, Culture, and the Environment.” Through readings from her books and spoken stories, Joy Harjo explores the deep connections between people, culture, and the natural world. Rooted in Indigenous traditions, her storytelling reflects how land, memory, and community are intertwined, inviting us to consider our shared relationship with the Earth.

Tickets and more information at www.leopoldwritingprogram.org/annual-lecture